

Cookie Policy

This website uses cookies. By using this website and agreeing to this policy, you consent to Kensho use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this policy.

Cookies are files sent by web servers to web browsers, and kept by the web browsers. The information is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. This enables a web server to identify and track web browsers.

Here exist two main kinds of cookies: session cookies and persistent cookies. Session cookies are deleted from your computer when you close your browser, while persistent cookies continue keep on your computer until deleted, or until they reach their termination date.

Cookies on our website

Once you agree with that, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site.

Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about webpage traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system. Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

Refusing cookies

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies.

In Firefox, you can adjust your cookies settings by clicking “Tools”, “Options” and “Privacy”.

In Internet Explorer, you can refuse all cookies by clicking “Tools”, “Internet Options”, “Privacy”, and selecting “Block all cookies” using the sliding selector. Blocking cookies may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.
